

Sarah Louise

AUTUMN WINTER 2017

Here at Sarah Louise we have built a family business based on the relentless pursuit of the very finest quality in every aspect of each garment and accessory in our range and by asking the further question: how can we make the next collection even better?

We begin with the very best. That means finding the finest fabrics, utilising the skills of the most innovative and imaginative designers and having a quality control regime that demands nothing less than perfection.

Take any garment and it will tell a story, perhaps in terms of the detailed hand embroidery, the extent that a motif is developed and utilised or, in a seemingly simple design, the way that the stitching and finishing are lovingly handled each one unique in its originality, truly hand made.

For this season, we have tried to encapsulate the bringing on of Autumn and its beautiful shades of reds and cool colours by making this evident in the range in certain areas. Classic tartans in reds mix with velvets, bold prints and enchanting special occasion wear.

As one might expect from a range aimed at the cooler months of the year, both warmth and comfort are much in evidence with cosy wools and cashmeres enfolding and protecting little ones from the icy tracteries of winter and the chills of autumn. The new season also sees innovations in the use of a richer colours and glittering detail in astonishing depth to counterpoint the clever use of hand work and detailed embroidery with contrasting prints.

Within these pages you will find fun, elegance and style, rich and vibrant colour and, above all, the outstanding quality that continues to make the name Sarah Louise synonymous with the very best.

Enjoy the collection.
